immediately after the Concert, on the last stage of the Opera House, and in full view of the audience, under the immediate supervision of the President and Directors of the VUE DE L'EAU COMPANY, and the following distinguished gentlemen, who have kindly consented to be present and see that the gifts are properly distributed as advertised:—

Hon John B. Ludlow, Mayor of Norfolk, Hon A. S. Watts, Mayor of Portsmouth, Col Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk, Hon John B. Whitehead, Ex-Mayor of Norfolk,

James G. Holladay, Esq., of Portsmouth, The Board of Directors, whose well known character for integrity, honor, and public enterprise are so well known as to guarantee success, and a fair and impartial distribution of the gifts:—

Major George W. Grice, President Bank of Portsmouth, Col William Lamb, President First National Bank, Norfolk,
Gen V. D. Grover, General Agent Boston
Steamship Company,
Capt Nathan B. Burruss, Son & Co., Washington Road, Esq., of Peters & Reed Merchants,
Edo G. G. G. G., Superintendent Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, Robert A. Neely, Esq., of R. J. & W. Neely & Co., Marshall Parks, Esq., President Albermarle & Chesapeake Canal Company, E. C. Lindsey, Esq., Real Estate Broker, William B. White, Esq., Attorney at Law, Norfolk.

The distribution will be by blindfolded persons or children, from two wheels, one of which will contain gifts on printed slips sealed in envelopes of the same size, the other will contain tags, with numbers on them corresponding with all the tickets sold; after the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed by revolving the person at the first wheel will take a number, thereupon, and then the person at the second wheel will take a gift therefrom, and the gift thus taken will belong to the number taken immediately before it;—this process will continue—the numbers and gifts being publicly announced—until the whole lot of tickets and one gift are distributed.
Thus the public will really see there can be no fraud, collusion, or knowledge of what gift any number will get.

Should the tickets be not all sold when the concert closes, the presents will be distributed in proportion to the number sold.

It is hoped the public will promptly respond to this effort to establish upon a firm basis a delightful resort during the heated months.

TICKETS ONLY $5 EACH.

Currency Gifts will be paid in cash at our banking House in the city of Norfolk, on presentation of the tickets entitled thereto, without discount.

about the rain, but tired of the rain itself.

The News city carriers make their rounds every morning on horseback.
This looks like business.

last night of four fine gobblers.

kins, yesterday gave his bond for $250, 000, and regularly qualified before the

The Western Legislature that came to the city with a carpet bag and returned home yesterday with a large trunk, well filled, may well be said to be the Lucky man of the House.

Miss Jennie Patterson has been complimented with a party given to her by the citizens of Wilmington. James, of the Journal, took a hand and enjoyed it lively.

The only items before the Police Court yesterday was the arrest of two small boys for fighting. The Mayor very wisely turned them over to the tender mercies of their respective "Dads" for peach tree application.

A correspondent says: When indications of a cold appear, take a piece of rhubarb and soak it in warm milk until it becomes perfectly soft, then apply it to the part affected, renewing it occasionally, and keeping it on until a cure is produced.

Messrs. C. D. Heatt & Co. are receiving their third stock of fashionable bered this is the only boot and shoe the city is more entitled to patronage than these clever young gentlemen.

Chief of Police King found a large lot of stolen goods in Oberlin yesterday, which are now at his office awaiting identification. There is reason to believe that a regularizing is existing in the city, and it is to be hoped the police will be successful in their efforts to ferret out the members of the same.

The Friend of Temperance, published in this city, is the national organ of the large and growing society of Friend of Temperance. The Friend is not only a true and faithful exponent of this good order, but a number one newspaper besides. The Friends everywhere should work for its extensive circulation.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Mr. George F. Leach, the New York partner of the Messrs. Leach Bros. of this city, is at the Yarrowburgh.

Col. R. E. Withers, one of the most distinguished citizens of Virginia, was at the Yarrowburgh House yesterday.
Col. Withers was one of the Greeley and Brown Electors for the State at large.

A few of the bachelor members of the Legislature are still loitering and lingering lovingly around this city. An Eastern Senator (unmarried) will make a visit Westward this evening. What's up?

Wonder if it is his purpose to take the advice of the Senator from Columbus, publicly given him in the Senate a few days ago, in the discussion of the recess question.

MASONIC.—There will be a meeting of Wm. G. Hill Lodge, No. 218, this (Friday) night at 7 o'clock, for work in the second degree.

AN ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE—

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—At an early hour yesterday morning, Nicholas John, the Proprietor of a drinking Saloon and Restaurant on Fayetteville street, attempted to take his own life by shooting himself, though the circumstances connected with the case, as far as we could glean them, render it quite a mysterious affair. Mr. McGown, a partner in the establishment, retired at a quarter to 12 o'clock, leaving Mr. John in the bar room. His (Mr. McGown's) room was immediately over the bar room. About half an hour after he retired he heard pistol shots in the bar room but was prevented from going down by his wife, whose fears were excited for his safety. Five or more shots were fired and all became quiet. Soon afterwards Mr. McGown heard the voice of Mr. John calling his wife, whose room adjoined him, saying: "I am almost gone." Mr. McGown then went down to the bar room, but found that John had locked all the doors of the house, even the one that led to his (John's) wife's room. He effected an entrance and found John sitting on an empty Lager beer keg, bleeding profusely from the mouth and too much intoxicated to make a sensible reply to any questions asked.

A physician was immediately summoned and it was discovered that a ball had been shot through the mouth, splitting the tongue and lodging in the rear of the head, just above the ear, and his condition at the present writing is thought to be quite precarious.

It is reasonably supposed that Mr.
John attempted to take his own life, but why he should have fired four shots and only one taking effect in his body is a mystery as yet unraveled.

Mr. John is an intemperate man, and generally drinks a good deal at night.
The general opinion is, that he did this act in a fit of delirium caused by liquor, and that if he had been in his proper mind it would not have occurred.

Mr. John is a quiet peaceable and in-offending citizen, and his family relationship of the most pleasant nature.
He has been quite successful in business, and we learn does not owe five dollars in the world, and is in good easy circumstances. He is a Greek by birth, of a pleasant, affable and agreeable temperament; therefore not the slightest cause or reason why he should wish to commit so rash an act. It is indeed a mysterious affair.

WESTERN CAROLINA.—We propose at such times that we are enabled to get the information, to bring before our readers the great and superior advantages that Western North Carolina has over the balance of the world as a summer resort for invalids and pleasure seekers. Below we publish a communication handed us by Col. John T. Cramer, the Senator from Davidson county, in regard to the superior qualities of "Brummett's Springs" in Davidson county; also an analysis of the waters, as made by Professor Kerr, the State Geologist:

STATE GEOLOGIST ROOMS,
Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 18th, 1872.

Hon JOHN T. CRAMER,
Senate Chamber, Raleigh, N. C.

SIR:—The sample of mineral water which you brought me, contains the following ingredients:

1—Iron.
2—Lime.
3—Sulphuric acid.
4—Magnesia.
5—Chlorine.

The 1st is abundant, the 2nd, 3rd and 5th in considerable quantities, and the 4th in small amount. There is probably a small amount of Alum.

Very truly, etc.,
J. C. KERR,
State Geologist.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 18, 1872.

Editor Raleigh News.

SIR:—The enclosed report from Prof.
Kerr was made upon a sample of mineral water furnished me by Hon. H. W.
Brummett, of the county of Davidson.

Mr. Brummett informed me that this sample was procured from a new spring found on his land, situated between High Point and Thomasville, and persons availing themselves of the benefits of the old spring in the same locality, can have the benefit of the new.

"Brummett's Springs" are too well known in North Carolina to require any comment from us.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN T. CRAMER.

THANK YOU.—Our contemporary of the Roanoke News pays us the following compliment:

"We are gratified to state that the contract for the State printing, has been awarded to our energetic young friends and contemporaries, Messrs. Stone & Uzzell. They richly deserved it, and the award is but a fitting reward for their fidelity and service to the party. We are fully assured that they will discharge the duties incumbent on them satisfactorily all around, and we congratulate them on the appointment, and hope they may have pleasure, and profit thereby."

THE DAY OF INTERSESSION.—This the 20th day of December, has been designated by the Episcopal Church in England and in this country "A Day of Special Intercession to the Lord of the Harvest" that He will be pleased to send forth laborers into His Harvest. It will be observed throughout all the world wherever there is a church of this denomination established, and will be observed in this city by services at Christ's Church at 11 o'clock.

AND STILL ANOTHER.—James M.
Towles, Jr., yesterday led to the hymnenal altar, the beautiful Miss Stella Cunningham, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. M. Atkinson, at the residence of the bride's uncle, L. E. Heart, Esq. We wish the happy couple all the joy attainable in the newly changed condition.

AN ESCAPE.—Yesterday our sanctum was quietly entered by two gentlemen who represented themselves as citizens of Granville county. Seating themselves, they entered into an ordinary conversation, and though one exhibited rather a bewildered appearance, we thought nothing strange of the circumstances, until they started to leave, when the bewildered man, with a peculiar expression of countenance, said to us—"Young man, I will meet you again at this spot in fifty minutes." Before we had time to say he could add another fifty minutes to the time, he was gone.
A few minutes afterwards the bewildered man was under the charge of an officer, and being taken to the Lunatic Asylum, from which place he must have escaped—names suppressed.

YARROWBURGH HOUSE BRIDAL CHAM-BER.—This room was occupied Wednesday night by Mr. W. H. Nettles, of Lenoir, N. C., who was just taken to himself a bride; and yesterday morning by J. H. Pugh, of Morrisville, who married at sun-rise, in the parlor, Miss M. E. Collier of the same town. Such early rising indicates a run-away match. His Honor, Mayor Whitner, officiated.

At the present writing, in the aforesaid room, is snugly stored away Mr.
Linney, of Eastern Carolina, who was married yesterday morning.

All of this to the writer's knowledge, has been done within twenty-four hours.
Long may they live and prosper. To all we would say, "Go thy way rejoicing."

EXTENSION OF BLOUNT STREET.—

Every arrangement for the extension of the above named thoroughfare on its Northern end is being rapidly pushed forward.

The large Baptist Female Seminary through which the street is to pass, will be moved in a few days from its present position and made to front the new street. Mr. O. K. Smith, the great North American house-mover, is the contractor for the job. He proposes to change "front to the rear on the left wing," without deranging the building in any way. We learn there are several other buildings that will be moved for the passage and opening of other streets.
Roll on the ball.

MONUMENT TO THE HON THOS. RUF-FIN.—The Hillsboro Recorder thus speaks of a beautiful monument which has just been erected in that place:

"A beautiful monument of Italian marble has just been erected to the memory of this eminent gentleman in the church yard of the Episcopal church in this place. Including the pedestal, it is eighteen feet high. Upon the faces of the pedestal are just and appropriate inscriptions, commemorative of the character, services, and leading incidents in the career of the illustrious dead." The pedestal is surrounded by a monolith shaft, the whole presenting a beautiful appearance.

ALL SQUARE.—James, of the Willington Journal, "goes for" us because we spoke of the little town of Willington as such, and correlates his article with "Woodrow, we are you one, will you call this square." Of course we do, James; or if we have ever said anything that could possibly have offended you, or may hereafter say anything that might offend you, remember that we are ready to apologize, to beg your pardon, and moreover ready and prepared to go on continually begging your pardon for any length of time you might think proper to mention. Yes, call it square.
Note—this fellow weighs 175 lbs.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We return our sincere thanks to the well known res-taurateurs, Messrs. Potter & Co., 311 Fayetteville Street, for a water full of —everything good to eat sent to our private house Wednesday last. It came just in time, and was most delicious, and hugely enjoyed. Mr. Charles Long, one of the most polite and accommodating men we know, who presides over this department, did the "fixing up," and it will be no compliment to Charley to say it was well done, as everybody knows that he is a trump in his line.

ON A SPRING.—A drunken negro yesterday, in a state of delirium, imagined that he was really the owner of the large number of cotton bales in front of the commission merchants of Martin street, and really expressed a leading cotton buyer of the city with the statement that he was. While the said cotton buyer was examining and taking samples of a lot owned by G. T. Stronach & Bro., Mr. G. T. Stronach appeared on the ground and in relieving the cotton buyer's mind of the false impression, also got a good laugh at the buyer's expense.

THE METHODIST FAIR.—The ladies of the Methodist Church have been holding a Fair at Tucker Hall for the past two nights, but owing to the exceeding inclement weather, have not succeeded as well as they wished. We regret the untoward circumstances, and hope they will postpone their Fair for a more opportune occasion.

THE VER DE L'EAU GIFT ENTER-PRIZE.—Our readers will remember that the Vue de l'Eau Gift Concert will take place in Norfolk on Monday night next.
The large amount of gifts to be awarded, and the objects sought to be obtained, make the whole thing peculiarly attractive. See advertisement on this page.

The Katie Putnam troupe opened gloriously in Charleston on Monday evening, and the charming Katie has already garnered the cities of the press. They have gone for her pretty much as did Woodson and James—"Wilmington Journal."

MISS TRICKS.—Mrs. Karrer, corner of Martin and Salisbury streets, has on hand everything that may be wanted for the holidays. See her advertisement.

Introduction of Bills.

By Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, A bill for the relief of Timothy F. Lee, Sheriff of Wake county, allows him till the 1st of February.

Under a suspension of the rules the bill was placed upon its second reading.

Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, advocated its passage.

Passed its several readings.

House bill, No. 113, allow the county commissioners of Transylvania to levy a special tax, called up by Mr. Whitmire, and passed its several readings.

Mr. Houston asked for a suspension of the rules to take up a resolution of instruction to the Attorney General Grimes.

The resolution instructs the Attorney General to procure for the use of the House all decrees and orders in regard to the dividends of the North Carolina Railroad, and the distribution of the same, &c.

Mr. Guyther did not understand so many "whereases" about the resolution, and asked its mover for an explanation, whereupon

Mr. Houston "rose to explain," in which he said, that as guardians of the people, the representatives here are in honor bound and compelled to see what had become of the dividends of the road.

Mr. Badger thought a resolution of this kind puerile, and was surprised that gentlemen on this floor should offer such. The history of this road was too well known to require any such action on the part of the Legislature, unless it wished to make a fool of its Attorney General.

Mr. Houston ably replied to the objections offered by Mr. Badger and insisted upon the passage of the resolution.

Mr. Badger, in reply said that the information desired could be attained by

POSITION OF THE NEWS.

In order that the position of the News may not be misunderstood, we re-publish the following extracts from the editorials which appeared in our first issue, in March last.

We hereby reaffirm the policy and statements which are here reproduced, and we leave it to our readers to say whether or not we have been consistent in standing by the organization of the Conservative party, and laboring for its harmony and success.

The articles quoted apply to the position of the News at this time, and we herewith re-assert and re-endorse them.

In their address "To the Public," the Proprietors of the News, under their own names, used the following language, referring to the establishment of their paper at Raleigh:

We have been influenced to take this step by two considerations: First, both of us are practical printers and have had considerable experience in journalism, and therefore we believe we can make to our pecuniary interests to conduct a daily paper in Raleigh. Secondly, as our sphere of operations was enlarged, we believe we could do more effective service in behalf of the Conservative-Democratic party, whose interests we have deeply at heart and whose principles will always find in us true and loyal champions.

We purchased the Carolinian with our own money, and we shall give the public a bold, outspoken, independent Conservative Democratic journal, untrammelled by pecuniary or other obligations to any individual and unsubsidized by the money of any corporation, State or foreign. We shall publish our paper at the dictation, or in the interests, of no individual, clique, faction, Rail Road or other ring, but we shall publish it with an eye single to the best interests and highest good of the people of North Carolina.

We shall strive to give the reading public a good news paper which will contain sound political doctrines. We believe that if the News prove itself worthy of patronage and support of the people, it will be a success; and if it prove itself unworthy thereof, it does not deserve to succeed.

The following is the salutatory of the Political Editor, which appeared in the same issue:

[From the Daily News March 1.]

In assuming the editorial duties of the Daily News, I am aware that there are weighty responsibilities incident to the position.

It shall be my highest endeavor to edit a paper whose course will commend itself to the approbation of the true men of the State.

The political views of the Proprietors are in hearty accord with my own. Indeed, under no circumstances could I consent to edit any other than a strictly Conservative Democratic journal, such an one the News must assuredly shall be, for in no event will it depart from the principles of our party. On the other hand, true as the needle to the pole, it will remain steadfast to party organization, and while under my control it will ever be found battling firmly and faithfully for our cause.

SAM'L T. WILLIAMS.

Raleigh, March 1st, 1872.

The following is from the leading editorial, defining the position of the paper:

"In removing our paper from Weldon to Raleigh, it is no part of our purpose to change, in the slightest degree, the political position maintained by the Carolinian during its whole career. That position was a steady, faithful, zealous, unflinching opposition to Radical Republicanism in all its forms. This radical political foe of our country we have unceasingly fought, from the time we had a voice through the public press, with all the ability, energy, and means of opinion we could command. We intend still to carry on this fight with unabated ardor. We intend to continue to wage a bold, determined, uncompromising struggle against the wicked Radical cohorts of tyranny, who, under the name and in the guise of Republicanism, have throttled the liberties of the country, and crushed the once proud, free spirit of a now subjugated and impoverished people. Above all, we will continue to wage battle, with all our power, against the political thieves and swindlers in North Carolina, who have destroyed our credit, bankrupted the State, stolen our bonds, and robbed from the brow of honest toil, millions of the public treasure, leaving our dear, bleeding Mother, poor, downcast and heart broken in her present sorrow and degradation."

The following is in reference to certain rumors that prevailed in Raleigh about the time we started our paper. We have no more connection now with the Pennsylvania Central, directly or indirectly, than when the following was published:

"THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL AND OURSELVES."

It has been rumored through the press, and upon the streets of Raleigh, that a paper would soon be established here in the interests of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad. As our paper has been started since the circulation of the rumor, we deem it a duty we owe to the public and to ourselves to announce that the News has no connection, directly or indirectly, with the Pennsylvania Central or any other Rail Road. That there may be no ground for any misunderstanding on the subject, we state further that we have never borrowed from the Pennsylvania Central one dollar or other Railroad, and never expect to; that we are under no obligation of any kind to any corporation, but that we will be ready at all times, to criticize freely and fearlessly the conduct of all Railroad officials as well as all other public officers. And we may add, ALL THE MONEY WHICH THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL HAS, OR CAN BORROW, CANNOT PURCHASE OUR PRINCIPLES NOR CAUSE US TO SWERVE FROM

THE LINE OF OUR DUTY. IF WE WERE A THOUSAND TIMES RICHER THAN WE ARE, WE WOULD STILL BE TOO POOR TO RE-TRADE TRIBUTE MONEY AS A REWARD FOR TREACHERY AND FAITHLESSNESS.

We hold the interests, the prosperity and the honor of North Carolina above all price. We have come here to labor for those interests and for that prosperity and to maintain that honor. Than this, we have no higher political ambition. If we fail, we will go down with the flag of our party nailed at our masthead; we will go down struggling against Radicalism and in defense of the liberties of the people; we will go down with our reputation untainted by dishonor—with a spirit unawed by power and unshrinking by patronage."

NORTH CAROLINA AND VIRGINIA.

We publish in another column a letter from Gen. Rufus Barringer in reply to Gen. Jubal A. Early.

Several of our contemporaries seem disposed to avoid the subject of discussion to which Gen. Hood's speech at Raleigh gave rise.

They say North Carolina has no quarrel with Virginia, and therefore it is ill-timed and impolitic to institute any comparison of the respective parts performed in the war by the two States.

It is true we have no quarrel with Virginia, nor can we have. We love, honor and revere the mother State of Lee and Stonewall Jackson. Next to North Carolina, Virginia occupies the highest place in our affections. We will never pluck one leaf from the laurel which so proudly decorates her noble brow. We would not, if we could, dim the brightness that encircles the military fame of her heroes nor wither the flowers that deck the civic wreath of her statesmen.

But there is such a thing as History—there are such words as TRUTH and JUSTICE—there is such a thing as duty to the living and to the dead, and hence we are glad the discussion has arisen as to the part performed by North Carolina during the war.

The histories that have thus far purported to give the events during the four years' struggle between the South and the North, have scarcely dignified to refer to our State at all.

There has been no just recognition of the services of North Carolina thus far. Gen. Hood's speech is the first authoritative statement that has been made since the war in commemoration of the patriotism and valor of our soldiers.

Gen. Hood paid a voluntary and exalted compliment to the Confederate soldiers from this State, and in the course of his remarks incidentally stated, as his best opinion, that North Carolina had more troops upon the soil of Virginia, than Virginia herself, and that there were more Confederate soldiers from North Carolina buried on the battle fields of the South than from any other State.

"It," said Gen. Hood, "I were called upon to bestow the laurel for gallant conduct during the late war, I would unhesitatingly bestow that honor on North Carolina."

These remarks brought forth a letter from Gen. Early, who addresses facts and memoranda to show that Virginia furnished more troops than North Carolina to the Confederate service.

Gen. Barringer of this State, replies to Gen. Early, and we hope the subject will continue to be discussed until some reliable data are furnished by those who participated in the struggle, that the truth may be eliminated and right and justice, vindicated.

UNITY OF THE PARTY FOR THE SAKE OF THE STATE.

The Conservative party can be maintained only by harmonious action and by strict organization.

If disintegration begins at the centre, the party may fall to pieces and leave the people the prey of the Radicals. Bitterness and dissensions will not heal animosities. Abuse and denunciation are not the weapons to use on those who stand in our own ranks.

Individual jealousies, and individual jealousies should not be allowed to dismember the Conservative party. For the sake of the people let us preserve the unity of the party at all hazards and under all circumstances.

No man is above the party, so no man's grievances should be permitted to distract and divide the opponents of Radicalism.

We must make a united fight against the common enemy, for we are not strong enough to afford to quarrel among ourselves.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says that the proprietors of the New York Tribune have made a decidedly poor investment in taking Schuyler Colfax to succeed the lamented Horace Greeley. That is about as competent to step into the shoes of that gentleman as an infant would be to wear the breeches of a giant.

Mr. Edward A. Pollard died at the residence of his brother, Mr. Richard Pollard, on Court street, Lynchburg, Va., on the 16th inst. He had been a helpless invalid for some two years.

It is positively denied that Miss Ida Greeley was engaged to the young man Hampstead that lost his life with the ill-fated Missouri recently.

The Norfolk Virginia announces the retirement of Mr. T. Ruffin, who sells the Star in the style of the publishing firm will be in future, Gleason & Atkinson.

A Millford, (Mass.) man is in ecstasies over an interesting and suggestive relic, in the shape of a hat, which he declares he has worn through one hundred and eighty drunks, and tenderly says it is still a "thing of beauty."

Rinchart's marble statue of Clytie has been purchased by John W. McCoy, of Baltimore, in order to insure its retention as a perpetual memorial of the artist of the Monumental City.
